Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Foods and Food Adulterants, Vol. 1: Dairy Products The adulteration of butter with other fats has of late years attracted the attention not only of the analyst but also of the political economist and health officer. This matter has been deemed of sufficient importance to demand regulation by law of Congress. This law provides for the inspection and analysis of commercial butters and their substitutes. Following is the text of the act: An Act defining butter, also imposing a tax upon and regulating the manufacture, sale, importation, and exportation of oleomargarine. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That for the purposes of this act the word butter shall be understood to mean the food product usually known as butter, and which is made exclusively from milk or cream, or both, with or without common salt, and with or without additional coloring matter. Sec. 2. That for the purposes of this act certain manufactured substances, certain extracts, and certain mixtures and compounds, including...
