The best kinds of honey are also exported from these valleys to all parts of the world, and are used for medicines, but unfortunately this interesting land that served as the cradle of the human race and from which the good tidings of salvation and peace through Christ has spread all over the world is now in the hands of the terrible Turk, who sends out curses instead of blessings. Fine grapes grow in most parts of Persia, but they cannot be exported fresh because there are no railroads. They can be carried for about forty miles on horseback, but when they have been thus carried they soon spoil. From grapes they make both wine and molasses, but the most of them are dried, making rais ins. They cover a terrace or side hill with plaster made of clay mixed with chaff and upon this they spread the ripe grapes to dry in the bright sunshine. When dry they export them by means of caravans to Russia. When persons are gathering grapes, the passers by greet them by saying, May God give you blessings in your vineyard. When they pass by a man who is plowing they say, May and od give you strength. To both these greetings the laborers reply, Welcome or Thank you. They raise very good wheat, barley, and millet. In order to tell if their wheat is good any year, they chew a few grains to see if it expands...
