He was a prosperous farmer, a man just passing his prime; And still a husky fellow who was always pressing the time. From early morning hours his pace would weary a fox, He worked with a three man power as patiently as an Ox. He had the mind of a Plato, the loins of Hercules; He had the smile of a master and the art of working with ease. He could laugh at rain out of season and grin each day of the drouth; Was always on taps at meal time and seldom down in the mouth. For years, perhaps about forty, he fought with weather and soil; Attained success as a farmer and had considerable spoil. He was not classed as a Christian, for he never joined the church; And he had slipped his religion beyond the clergyman s perch. He was very exact in observing and ever playing his game, For coining some good farm proverbs he won considerable fame. He worked over time...
